Your teacher is going to read out a series of questions. Skim and scan through the cover story Fearsome Female Pirates for answers to the questions. As soon as you find the answer to a question, put your hand up to say the answer out loud. SPEED IS IMPORTANT HERE!

TASK 2

Answer the following questions.

1. Why was the period between 1620 and 1720 known as the Golden Age of Piracy?

2. Pick out the phrase used to suggest that the pirates killed their victims.

3. How were the corsairs different from other pirates?

4. What were pirates superstitious about?

5. Why do you think it was important for Ching Shih to form an alliance with her stepson Cheng Pao?

Replace the words in bold with words from the story.

Piracy was at its ¹most active between the 17th and 18th century. ²Ships carrying goods were robbed on the high seas by ³murderous pirates. ⁴Pirates who were operating legally with their government's permission shared their ⁵spoils with their government. Their activities were sanctioned by their governments. Pirates were usually men as women were considered bad luck on ships. However, there were some ⁶outstanding female pirates in history. One was Ching Shih who in her time commanded up to 1,500 ships and 80,000 pirates. She was very cruel and ⁷chopped off the heads of those who betrayed her and chopped off the ears of ⁸those who ran away from her army. Then there were the ⁹infamous pair of Mary Read and Anne Bonny. They disguised themselves to look like boys and served on board the pirate Calico Jack's ship. Finally, there was Grace O'Malley who commanded a 20-ship fleet. She had been imprisoned for one and a half years and even managed to convince Queen Elizabeth 1 to ¹⁰let her go when her fleet was captured by the British navy.
