

WHAT TO DO IF YOU FIND SOMEONE'S PET.

If you have found a stray cat or dog, it's more than likely that there is an owner searching for them. Here are some tips to give the animal the best chance of being reunited with their owner.

Check for a collar or tag

Contact the owner using the contact details on the tag

Scan the microchip

Take the animal to a council pound, shelter or veterinary clinic to have him scanned for a microchip

Make posters

Put up found posters in your area. Include a clear photograph and a note letting the owner know the council pound, shelter or veterinary clinic where you have left the animal.

Use social media

Use your network, ask for help, and post on all the lost and found pages you can find.

On the other hand, what if you lose your pet? Here are some things you can do to find them!

Search immediately

Don't wait in the hope your pet will find his own way home.

Reach out

Contact shelters, pounds and veterinary clinics - even the ones outside your area

Make posters

Let your neighbourhood know about your missing pet... She could be found close by!

Use social media

Use your network, ask for help, and post on all the lost and found pages you can find.
