The magazines are filled with interesting articles and stories graded by CEFR level, written by a group of diverse writers; with each article carefully curated for maximum learning value, accompanied by amazing illustrations to attract the reader's interest.

Now, Just English would like to encourage its readers to put what they have learnt from the magazines to good use. We would like them to exercise their language skills and push their levels of proficiency even higher. And we offer a RM100.00 reward to individuals for selected pieces of writing!
